About “Surrounded By Monkeys”

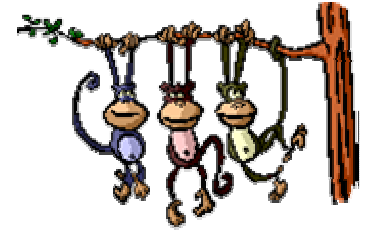

You might ask how this quilt got its unusual name - we went right to the source for this one. According to Debbie Caffrey, quilt designer:

“It was originally designed as a mystery quilt for a retreat that had an “on safari” theme. The circles in the setting remind me of the traditional Burgoyne Surrounded Block. Lastly, I was proof-reading the pattern during commercials while watching the Super Bowl. I thought the commercials showing a man working in an office with a bunch of chimpanzees were hilarious. All these things came together to give this quilt its odd name. This unique setting gives the illusion of circles, but uses simple strip piecing techniques “
